

Great for you project as Signage Player, Desktop Replacement, IOT Servers and more..!

High Definition

HDMI1.4b supports 4K experience

Watchdog enabled

In case something goes wrong,
the Watchdog function restarts the PC and puts it back to normal operation small formfactor. Only 7 x 7 x 3cm.

|                                          |                                           |
|------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|
| SOC                                      | Intel Celeron N3350 Processor Apollo Lake |
|                                          | 2.3GHz [Burst], 1.1GHz[HFM]               |
| Main Memory                              | 2GB LPDDR4                                |
| Storage                                  | 32GB eMMC 5.0                             |
|                                          | USB 3.0 x 1                               |
|                                          | USB 2.0 x 1                               |
| I/O ports                                | Micro USB 2.0 x 1 (for power)             |
|                                          | LAN RJ45 X 1 [1000Mbit/sec]               |
| Thermal                                  | zero dB micro Fan                         |
| Wi-Fi / Bluetooth                        | 802.11 ac + BT 4.0                        |
|                                          | Dual band (2.4GHz and 5GHz)               |
| Display                                  | Standard HDMI Type A (MALE)               |
|                                          | HDMI 1.4b:3840 x 2160 / 30Hz              |
|                                          | Power on when power plugs in.             |
| Power Adapter                            | RTC Power on/off                          |
|                                          | 12V/2A                                    |
| Watch Dog                                | Multiples of 0.6s                         |
|                                          | Range between 1.2s~ 613.8s.               |
| CEC Function                             | Remote control on/off from LCD TV         |
| OS                                       | Windows 10 home 64bit only                |
| Temperature                              | Operating 0 ~ +35°C                       |
|                                          | Storage -20 ~ +60°C                       |
| Chassis Material                         | Plastic                                   |
| Chassis ID                               | Black                                     |
| Chassis Dimension                        | 7.0 x 7.0 x 3.1cm                         |
| Kensington lock                          | Yes                                       |
| VESA mount                               |                                           |
| *ODM/ OEM service available upon request |                                           |